Art Unit: 1631

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-11, drawn to methods of diagnosis by protein measurement, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
- II. Claim 12, drawn to a protein, classified in class 530, subclass 350.
- III. Claims 13-15, drawn to proteins, classified in class 530, subclass 350.
- IV. Claims 16-18, drawn to antibodies and pharmaceutical compositions, classified in class 530, subclass 387.1.
- V. Claim 19, drawn to methods of treatment using antibodies, classified in class 530, subclass 387.1.
- VI. Claims 20-22, drawn to methods of treatment using nucleic acids, classified in class 514, subclass 44.
- VII. Claim 23, drawn to methods for identifying protein binding agents, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
- VIII. Claims 24-28, drawn to methods for identifying agents that modulate expression or activity of polypeptides, classified in class 435, subclasses 4, 6, and 7.1.
- IX. Claims 29-34, drawn to nucleic acids, vectors, host cells, nucleic acid hybridization assays, pharmaceutical compositions, and kits, classified in class 536, subclasses 23.5 and 23.1, and class 435, subclasses 6, 320.1, 325, and 252.3.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other for the following reasons. The methods of each of Groups I, V, VI, VII, VIII, and IX may each be practiced independently of on another. The proteins of Groups II, and III have uses other than in the methods of Group I (e.g., in affinity chromatography). The antibodies of Group IV are not needed to practice the methods of Group I. The nucleic acids, vectors, and host cells of Group IX are not needed to practice the methods of Group I. The proteins of Groups II and III are materially different from, and are therefore independent and distinct from, the antibodies of Group IV and the nucleic acids, vectors, and host cells of Group IX. The proteins of Groups II and III are not needed to practice the methods of Groups V, VI, VIII, or IX. The antibodies of Group IV have uses other than the methods of Group V (e.g., in affinity chromatography). The antibodies of Group V are not needed to practice the methods of any one of Groups VI, VII, VIII, or IX. The antibodies of Group V are materially different from, and are therefore independent and distinct from, the nucleic acids, vectors, and host cells of Group IX. The nucleic acids, vectors, and host cells of Group IX are not needed to practice the methods of Group V. The nucleic acids of Group IX have uses other than the methods of Group VI (e.g., in affinity chromatography).

Claims 20-22 and 33 are drawn to nucleotides, nucleotide constructs, and/or methods requiring the use of nucleotides or nucleotide constructs that contain more than one individual, independent, and distinct nucleotide sequence in alternative form. Accordingly, these claims are subject to restriction under 35 U.S.C. § 121 as outlined in 1192 O.G. 68 (November 19, 1996). This notice permits the examination of from one to ten independent and distinct nucleotide sequences in a single application based upon USPTO resources.

Should applicant elect a Group that claims or mentions more than one polynucleotide sequence, applicant is further required to select no more than ONE of the individual sequences for examination. The search of the no more than ONE selected sequence may include the complement of the selected sequence and, where appropriate, may include e subsequences within the selected sequence (e.g., oligomeric probes and/or primers).

Claims 1-6, 9-11, and 16-19 are drawn to large numbers of polypeptides or mention or require the use of large numbers of polypeptides. Should applicant elect a Group that claims or mentions more than one polypeptide sequence, applicant is further required to elect one polypeptide sequence within the elected Group for examination on the merits.

To search any two groups as outlined above would create an undue burden for the U.S. PTO because the searches of the non-patent literature are not only non-overlapping to any appreciable extent, but are also divergent in nature.

Art Unit: 1631

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their different classification and recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Reminder Regarding In re Ochiai and *In re Brouwer

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
